

SINJIN, THANK YOU

Directory & Pipeline

More graduate talent.
More ways forward.

With gratitude to Bigglesworth September 18, 2026

Building on the preview you already have

YOU HAVE SEEN

September 10-11

First look, donor preview and a smaller first test.

WORKING NOW

Connected prototypes

Student, educator and donor views to explore.

NEXT DECISION

Agree the pilot

Test usefulness, record quality and upkeep.

Give donors a clearer way to make a difference

Make the opportunity clear.

Connect the right people.

Show what their help changes.

Bigglesworth can help donors turn an intention into useful support.

A board narrative for Sinjin: use trusted relationships and clear information to empower donors. Start with graduate students.

Tools for a better donor conversation

FIND A FIT

Filter and compare programs

Bring a donor's interests into focus.

ASK BETTER

Follow sources and review needs

Know what to confirm before giving.

SEE THE WHOLE

Plan support and record results

Give each donor a clearer picture of their help.

Your connections can turn a shortlist into help

01

MATCH

A donor's interest with a documented need.

02

INTRODUCE

A willing funder to the right program contact.

03

FOLLOW UP

What was delivered?
Who moved forward?

Use the Directory alongside your own funder and client tools.

Proposed relationship-led process. Confirm the need, recipient and reporting before any contribution. No new tool integration assumed.

A useful path from possibility to progress

01

FIND

Directory

A relevant opportunity with a source to check.

02

PREPARE

Next-step plan

Compare options.
Choose what to do next.

03

CONNECT

Pipeline proposal

Meet a willing mentor.
Get useful feedback.

A clearer next step. A person who can help.

Directory and planning views exist. Personal introductions and follow-through are proposed.

A graduate student can start here

The screenshot displays the GGP Directory + Pipeline website. The top navigation bar includes the GGP logo, a 'Student' button, and links for 'Educator', 'Donor', and 'Possibilities ahead'. A 'PROTOTYPE - FOR REVIEW' label is in the top right. The main content area is titled 'THE STUDENT EXPERIENCE' and features the headline 'Your passion. Your next step.' with a subtext: 'Find opportunities to pursue your passion in games and creative technology. Compare possibilities and make a next-step plan at your own pace.' To the right, a box indicates '76 programs & resources in this collection'. Below this, four categories are listed: 'Explore games' (30 entries), 'Learn & fund it' (54 entries), 'Prepare my next step' (68 entries), and 'Find a way into work' (21 entries). A search filter section includes 'What are you curious about?' (with a text input), 'My learning stage' (a dropdown menu set to 'Graduate'), and 'Community focus' (a dropdown menu set to 'All communities'). A 'More ways to explore' link is also present. On the left sidebar, under 'YOUR NEXT CHAPTER', there are buttons for 'Explore opportunities', 'Compare my options' (0), and 'My next steps' (0). A motivational quote is also included: 'There is more than one way in. An interest, a new skill, a first project. Still discovering what you love? That is a good place to start.'

Live prototype, September 18. Catalog labels do not confirm open opportunities. Refresh CYSTEM award and intake details before testing.

Pipeline: people in their corner industry mentors

Two graduates per mentor.

10

graduate students

Opt in to an introduction and practical support.

20

conversations

Two per person, plus portfolio or plan feedback.

Sinjin: five willing practitioners could help ten graduates move forward.

Proposed pilot. Both people consent to each introduction. GGP coordinates and follows up; no job or placement promise.

Start small. Learn what people actually need.

FIRST: TRUSTED REVIEW

5 records
3 reviewers

Can they find the right information and trust the source?

THEN: GRADUATE EXPERIENCE

10 graduates
2 educators

Can they find a useful opportunity and explain their next step?

Advance when records are dependable and upkeep has an owner and budget.

Suggested pilot size and sequence for discussion with Alan and Eric. Measure corrections, usefulness and staff time.

Take-Two helped us begin. Partners sustain it.

INAUGURAL LEAD SPONSOR

Take-Two

$30,000 approved

For Directory development and deployment.

BIGGLESWORTH'S POTENTIAL ROLE

Help keep it useful.

Source checks and corrections.
Mentor coordination.
Follow-up on student progress.

Choose a costed contribution after the first test.

Any Directory contribution is separate from Scholars support. No new funding amount is assumed.

A year of help, with a purpose each quarter

Q4 2026

TEST

Check the first records.
Test with graduates.

SINJIN

Choose trusted reviewers.

BIGGLESWORTH

Shape a sustainable budget.

Find what is useful and what needs fixing.

Q1 2027

CONNECT

March 2 milestone.
Begin mentor matching.

SINJIN

Bring five willing mentors.

BIGGLESWORTH

Consider pilot support.

Ten graduates gain a personal connection.

Q2 2027

DELIVER

Complete conversations and portfolio feedback.

SINJIN

Bring specialist reviewers.

BIGGLESWORTH

Introduce a peer funder.

Ten graduates leave with practical feedback.

Q3 2027

REACH

Grow with partners.
Report useful next steps.

SINJIN

Recruit distribution partners.

BIGGLESWORTH

Help sustain what works.

Aim for 1,000 users and 100 people acting.

Proposed October 2026 to September 2027 roadmap. March scale depends on pilot evidence, staffing and budget. Counts overlap.

The ambition: more people take a real step

PROPOSED BY SEPTEMBER 2027

1,000

graduate students
use the Directory

100

graduate students
take a useful next step

An application submitted. Feedback received. A mentor meeting completed.

Discussion goals, not a forecast. Count people once, establish a baseline and refine after testing. The two groups overlap.

Your relationships can change what happens

INDUSTRY

Bring five mentor volunteers

Ten graduates could receive individual guidance.

FOUNDATIONS

Introduce one aligned funder

A costed contribution could support reliable upkeep.

REACH

Bring a trusted distribution partner

More graduates could discover a useful next step.

A small number of well-matched introductions can help us test the service, support people and grow responsibly.

The update you will get: people and progress

REACH

Distinct graduate users

Who found a useful route?

SUPPORT

Completed mentor contact

Who received practical help?

EFFECT

People taking a next step

What changed for that person?

RELIABILITY

Records checked + upkeep cost

Can people keep relying on us?

More ways forward, together

SINJIN, YOUR JUDGMENT MATTERS

Shape the first test.

Bring people who can help.

Help sustain what works.

Thank you for the people, care and possibility you keep bringing to GGP.

With gratitude to Sinjin, Claire, Lucas and Bigglesworth. Let's give more graduate students a useful next step.
